For Sale at the Book Store.

It is now about three years and a half since the travelling on the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road was commenced, and more than three hundred thousand passengers have since travelled on it without, it is said, a single instance of serious injury, to life or limb, having occurred to any one of them.

From the Wheeling (Va.) Gazette.

REMOVAL OF THE DEPOSITES FROM THE UNITED STATES BANK.—The Superintendent of the National Road received a few days since the amount of his pay in notes of the Bank of the Metropolis, (the Bank selected in place of the United States Bank to receive the Government deposites,) which, in this market, are from one to two per cent. discount. So much for the benefit of the Brokers—and yet, this is the policy of our Government for the benefit of the People!

State Rights.—Pennsylvania is the only one of the good old thirteen U. States that has never had one of her native citizens on the Bench of the Supreme Court of the U. States.

New Jersey is the only one of the good old thirteen U. States that has never had one of her citizens abroad as a Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States.

Pennsylvania, New Jersey, North Carolina, Georgia, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire, have never given either President, Vice President, or Secretary of State to the U. States.

Virginia, New York, Massachusetts and South Carolina have had six out of seven Presidents, all the Vice Presidents, and eight out of ten Secretaries of State.

Delaware has had more Federal Officers than North Carolina, and nearly as many as Pennsylvania.—Philad. Sentinel.

Steamboat Racing.—In the very interesting letter of Mr. E. Champion, Jr. a scientific gentleman, giving an account of the explosion of the steamboat New England, he states:

"The law in England is, that every boiler shall be tested quarterly, at three times the strength it is licensed to use. The safety valve is inaccessible to all but the officer of the government. Since this law, not a steamboat explosion has happened in that land where there is wisdom to conceive, and vigor to execute the laws of self preservation. Their provident care of life shames and reproaches our legislative indifference!! It is competent for Congress to regulate this subject—it is competent for the States. Let there be no cavil upon the power, as there is none upon the duty. The exposure of the lever and safety valve of the New England was the cause of the lamented destruction within her.

Horrible.—A poor woman who lives in Water street above Callowhill, in a kitchen cellar, much infested by rats, (such is the lot of the poor,) heard her infant in the course of the night wailing with a faint and interrupted cry. Wearied with the toil of the day, and supposing it merely the fretfulness of infancy, she addressed herself again to sleep. Again she was awakened, and hearing the rats at their infernal revel, she lighted a candle and hastened to the cradle. The sight that met her eyes was most frightful. A number of large rats were feeding upon her infant. The child was already bathed in its blood, and its face and limbs horribly mangled by the animals. With some difficulty she drove off the rats, and rescued her infant. An examination of its wounds, which were numerous and severe, left little hopes of recovery. The physician, however, is of opinion, that though the amputation of the arm may be necessary, the life of the little sufferer may be saved.—Philadelphia Intelligencer.

John Revels, a coloured barber, formerly of this City, put a period to his existence at Salisbury, last week, by taking laudanum. Raleigh Register.

A Carbondale paper thus discourses on the means of comfort:

"HOW TO KEEP COMFORTABLE.

"Under this head, the editor of the United States Gazette recommends flannel—and the editor of the Miners' Journal recommends large supplies of Anthracite Coal! Were we to venture an opinion, we would respectfully suggest the propriety of adding a few barrels of flour, pork, and cider, together with a quantity of potatoes, turnips and cabbage—and then if out of debt—any one may meet winter with philosophic fortitude and composure."

A London paper states that Mrs. Trollope was lately brought up before the Bow street Police, and fined twenty-one shillings for beating one of her servant girls.—This is a striking proof of that lady's own "Domestic manners."

Clergy.—The number of Clergymen in the State of New York is about 1750; of which number the Presbyterians have about 500, the Baptists about 450, the Methodists about 400, the Episcopalians about 165, the Reformed Dutch rather more than 160; the remainder belonging to various other denominations.—It is estimated the salaries of the clergymen average about $500 each—making an aggregate sum of $875,000. But we consider this estimate too high. We do not believe the average is over $400, if it is even as high; for no class of professional men are so poorly paid as clergymen. Some, to be sure, have liberal, and a few extravagant salaries; but a large majority, and particularly among the Methodists, are but poorly paid for their laborious duties. The number of churches and meeting houses in the city of New York, is 125—which allowing that each cost 16,000, have been built at an expense of $2,000,000.—Churchman.

A writer in the Fayetteville Observer of last week, in giving an account of the organization of the two Houses of the Legislature, states that the blank votes in the Commons, on the election of Speaker, were given by the friends of Mr. Long, for the purpose of testing his strength, without making a formal nomination. The writer, we understand, is mistaken; and it is but justice to the gentleman named to correct the error. We learn that his friends had no such intention; and that the blanks were thrown in by gentlemen entertaining a diversity of opinion in relation to the matter.

FROM THE RALEIGH STAR.

State Convention.—The State Internal Improvement Convention convened in the Methodist Church in this city, on Monday last. Governor Swain was unanimously chosen President; and E. L. Winslow, Esq. of Fayetteville, and James Cooke, Esq. of Rowan, were appointed Secretaries to that body. On taking the Chair, the President delivered a very able and interesting address, in which he entered fully into the subject of Internal Improvement; exposed the causes which have retarded the march of the State in all her former efforts; portrayed in vivid colours, the sad effects which had followed; and presented, in detail, frankly and explicitly, his own views and plans for remedying the evils, comprising an extensive and liberal system, intended ultimately to form a grand chain of improvement, connecting and binding together every section of the State, and opening a channel of communication into Tennessee, through which will be drawn into our borders the valuable products of the fertile valley of the Mississippi. As it is hoped he may be prevailed upon to furnish a copy of his address for publication, that the public may have the advantage of the valuable information it affords, we will not attempt any further sketch of it at present.

Forty-seven counties are represented in the Convention, and between one hundred and thirty and one hundred and fifty of the delegates are in attendance.

On Monday, a committee was appointed, consisting of one member from each Congressional district, to whom were referred all propositions on Internal Improvement; and who will, after due consideration, make report thereon. The following gentlemen compose said committee: Duncan Cameron, Chairman, H. G. Burton, Samuel King, Emanuel Shober, Robert Strange, John Branch, Vardry McBee, Thos. G. Polk, John D. Hawkins, Mathias E. Manly, E. B. Dudley and Samuel T. Sawyer. No delegates having appeared from one of the districts, the committee yet lacks one member of being complete.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, a number of resolutions were introduced, embracing various projects; but we understand that the most important propositions which have been submitted, and which it is supposed will engross the most serious consideration of the Convention, are, 1st, A plan for connecting the waters of the Chesapeake with Beaufort harbor. 2nd, For constructing a rail road from Beaufort to Ready Patch Gap of the Blue Ridge. 3rd, For extending a rail road across the State, just below the granite formation, from the South Carolina line to the Roanoke.

We are happy to learn that the utmost harmony and good feeling have thus far prevailed among the members of the Convention. It is composed of men distinguished for their talents, their practical good sense, their expansive views, and their lofty patriotism; and we trust, their constituents, who await the issue of their proceedings with intense anxiety, will not be disappointed in what they expect at their hands. It is important that they shall take time for mature and cautious deliberation; and it is therefore probable that they will not be able to adjourn until the end of the week. We shall seize the earliest opportunity to lay their proceedings before our readers.

The deep interest felt throughout the State, on the subject which has called this body together, and on the important matters which will claim the attention of the Legislature, has brought an extraordinary [illegible] of strangers into our city, which is generally crowded to overflowing. [illegible] spirit which pervades the [illegible] are encouraged to hope that a North Carolina will be dated from [illegible] rection which shall be given to [illegible] this winter, and that the legislature [illegible] present General Assembly will [illegible] the brighest pages of her history.

EDITOR'S CORRESPONDENCE.

Raleigh, Nov. 30.

MY DEAR SIR: No movements have been made this week upon either the Internal Improvement, the Convention, or Bank Questions. It was thought to be courteous, at least, to await the result of the labors of the Internal Improvement Convention, which terminated its deliberations this evening, about 3 o'clock. The Report and Memorial was handed this evening by Gov. Swain, to the Speakers of the two Houses, in presence of the members of the three bodies. The document, as a composition, is excellent, and I would say upon the whole, is faultless; but it would be a little better and more useful if it had contained a little more argument. On Monday, you may expect to hear from me generally. Lawrence & Lemay have been elected Public Printers by 8 or 10 votes. Swain is re-elected Governor, and Gaston Supreme Court Judge. Next week will bring forth much interesting matter for the action of the General Assembly. The Internal Improvement Convention recommends to the General Assembly, the expediency of borrowing five millions of dollars, to prosecute the public works of the State, viz., a ship channel at Beaufort, thence two Rail Roads, one North and one South West, the whole to be carried by the funds of the State. More of this by Monday's Mail, in time for your next week's paper.

The Internal Improvement Convention.—The more particular account of the proceedings of this body, which was promised us in the letter of our Correspondent, has not come to hand, in consequence of the northern mail having passed through Raleigh several hours earlier than usual. We learn from a member of the Convention, that a more harmonious meeting has seldom been witnessed; and that the Report and Memorial, the result of its deliberations, were finally adopted by a vote of 44 Counties to 4,—a degree of unanimity at which we are not less pleased than surprised. The Memorial is from the pen of Judge Strange, and is said to be one of the most eloquent documents ever submitted to the Legislature. We shall publish it as soon as possible.

We learn that the South Western Road, spoken of by our friend, is to run from Beaufort, through Fayetteville, to the Pee Dee and Catawba.

Legislature.—We learn that the vote for Judge of the Supreme Court was, for Gaston 112, Seawell 43, blank and scattering 36.

Gov. Swain was re-elected without opposition.

Congress.—Yesterday was the day fixed for the meeting of the first session of the 23d Congress. There is every reason to expect a long, interesting, and probably stormy session. Of its "sayings and doings," our readers shall of course be duly apprized. The President's Message may be looked for in our next.

The Legislature of South Carolina met on Monday the 25th Nov. The Message of Gov. Hayne is principally taken up with Nullification and the Force Bill.

On Tuesday, Col. Wm. C. Preston was elected, without opposition, Senator in Congress to supply the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Miller.

The Legislature of Alabama assembled on the 18th ult. Gov. Gayle, in his message, gives, at great length, a statement of the difficulties with the General Government in relation to the Indian lands and settlers.

The Georgia Legislature has several rail road schemes before it.

The Cashier of the State Bank of North Carolina gives notice that a Dividend of 2 per cent. upon the Capital Stock has been declared by the Directors of that Institution.

The South Carolina Rail Road Company finding it necessary to increase their Capital, opened Books, a few days ago, for subscriptions to the amount of 2000 shares, and in a very short time, 2511 shares were subscribed, of which 600 shares were taken by one Commercial house, and 1050 others by 23 individuals. This indicates a confidence in the success of the project which is highly encouraging to the friends of Internal Improvements.

Liverpool Market.—We have been politely furnished with a Letter from Liverpool of Oct. 23d. It states the sales of the week to be only 3820 bales at prices 2¾ to 3d. per lb. below the prices of August last. Of the sales 1530 bales were Upland at 8½ to 12d. The trade have purchased during 8 weeks only about 50,000 bales. On Saturday, the demand improved, and 1500 bales were sold, the opinion being general, that prices had got low enough. On Monday and Tuesday, the demand was still better, sales amounted to about 5000 bales, at an advance of ¼ to ⅜d. and still more upon the LOWEST business of the week. On Wednesday the sales about 2000 bales, and the market flat.

"The Import of all sorts of Cotton into the Kingdom, since the 1st January, amounts to 795,371 Bales against 795,312 received in 1832, and of American we have received 582,559 against 583,622 Bales.

The Stock of Cotton in this port as now estimated, amounts to about 236,000 Bales of all kinds, against 250,000 this time last year. And of American, separately, we appear to have 165,000 against 190,000 Bales."

Capt. Ross.—It will be seen by the foreign accounts, that this intrepid navigator has returned from his voyage of discovery, after an absence of more than four years, and after all hope of their safety had been abandoned. The result of the voyage "has been to establish, that THERE IS NO NEW [N. W.] PASSAGE SOUTH OF 74 DEGREES. The country discovered, which is larger than Great Britain, has been named Boothea, after Felix Booth, Esq. Sheriff of London in 1829, who much assisted Captain Ross in fitting out the expedition. The true position of the magnetic needle has been discovered, and much valuable information obtained for the improvement of geographical and philosophical knowledge."

The party suffered every extremity of hardship.

Georgia Taste.—It is stated that the only thing which called forth an expression of surprise from the celebrated Indian Chief Black Hawk, during his late sojourn among the whites, was that a Philadelphia audience at the Theatre, should demand a repetition of the song called "Jim Crow." What would have been his astonishment, had he been in Augusta a few days ago, to find the Theatre crammed full to hear the said song, and Mr. Rice required to sing it fifteen times before this enlightened audience could be satisfied?

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.

United States Bank Stock.—Sales commenced to-day at seven per cent. advance—in a short time rose to eight and a half.

The New York Gazette of Monday, remarks:

It is with great gratification we state that the money market has been somewhat relieved by the discounts on Saturday of the United States Bank, and one or two of the State Banks. We have no doubt this commendable example will be followed, and that the Banks generally, will afford to our merchants every facility in their power, at the present pressing time, by which to facilitate commercial operations.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 15.

Another Steamboat Accident.—We learn from Captain Boggs, of the Free Trader, from Florence, that the steamboat Illinois, Capt. Bell, on her way from St. Louis to this place, has met with one of those fatal accidents so common to our steamboats. A few days since—the day not precisely known—one of her boilers collapsed, and an explosion took place, by which twenty-eight persons were scalded, of which number thirteen were scalded to death and lost overboard.

Another Dreadful Steamboat Accident.—We are indebted to the Editor of the St. Francisville (La.) Phœnix, for the information that the Steamer Caspian "was burnt near the mouth of Red river, and we are informed that between 20 and 30 souls perished in the flames. Particulars not received."

The Louisville Herald publishes a history of Steamboats on the western waters; from which it appears that the whole number of boats lost on the Western waters since July, 1831, and abandoned, is sixty-seven. Of this number, seven were burnt while under way; nine burnt while in port; twenty-two sunk by snags and stumps; two by rocks; five by running foul; and seven by ice; and fifteen abandoned as unfit for service.

Uncle Sam's Bank Broke.—One of our friends returning the other day from Huntsville, stopped at one of the houses on his way, for dinner. When about to leave, he offered a five dollar note of the United States Bank for pay. "What bank is that on?" said mine host. "Why," returned our friend, "it is on the United States Bank." "Uh! (replied the landlord) I don't reckon you'll make me take any that sort o' money, for I understand General Jackson says that Bank is broke.—U. S. Gazette.

We can readily believe the anecdote, from the fact, that we were eye-witness, not a great while ago, to a similar incident in the county of Saratoga. A bill of the U. S. Bank being offered to a tavern keeper, he refused to take it, alleging as a reason, that "he had heard a great deal said against that Bank!"—N. Y. Com. Adv.

The anecdote copied into this paper a few days since, relative to a countryman's refusal to take United States Bank notes, was practically illustrated in Alexandria last week. A farmer objected to receiving United States Bank paper for his flour, because he doubted the solvency of the Bank, when so much was said about and against it by the "Government." These are precious times.—Alex. Gaz.

Cotton Crop.—We are sorry to learn, (says the Greensboro', (Ala.) Sentinel, of the 7th inst.) that the Cotton crop in this part of the country, which was a few weeks ago as promising as any ever raised in it, has, it is thought by many of our most experienced planters, been cut short nearly one fourth, by the early and severe frosts we have had.

The late phenomenon in the Heavens seems to have extended all over the United States, at least so far as we have heard from, and has produced all sort of sensations, as might be expected. A fellow near Georgetown, D. C. having just robbed a henroost, was so frightened by what he had no doubt was the day of judgment, while carrying off his booty, that he ran back and was caught in the act of replacing it.

Death of Maj. James Hamilton, Sen.—It is our melancholy task to announce the death of our worthy and venerable fellow citizen, Major James Hamilton, Sen. who expired about 12 o'clock last night, at the residence of his son in law, Judge Prioleau, in the 83d year of his age, and after a short illness arising chiefly from the debility and infirmities of his advanced period of life. Major Hamilton was the oldest surviving Field officer in the regular line of the Continental Army in the War of our Independence.—Charleston Evening Post.

Affairs of Printers.—We copy in another column an article from the Observer, relative to a proposition we made, some time since, to the printers in this State. We give it up. There is no reason why we should be more anxious for such an arrangement than the rest; although we still remain of the opinion that a concert of action would be beneficial to all. We cannot introduce the rule proposed by the Editor of the Observer, in justice to our establishment, though we should have yielded to it if it had been adopted as a general rule throughout the State. If we make any alteration in this respect, it will be to increase the amount of subscription to those who do not pay within a specified time. As to the motto, "the people can do no wrong;" it is based on the principles of our government. The people can never do politically wrong, for whatever is the will of the majority is right in republican polity. The moral conduct of individuals does not come under the cognizance of the motto—besides, the Editor of the Observer must recollect that the principle is not fully established that there exists any moral obligation to be punctual with the printer; the practice of many, who are men of fair character, would seem to favor the idea that there is none. The motto was dropped without reference to the matter in hand. We had two very good reasons for suspending it; one of which we have mentioned to several who have asked us about it—the other, we have not mentioned to any one, nor do we intend to do so, until the Raleigh and Wilmington and the Cape Fear and Yadkin Rail Roads are completed; when we intend to propose a trip on the latter road to our brother of the Observer—which is the least thing we can do, considering our brethren of the Journal have already invited us to take a jaunt to the mountains, by a similar conveyance.

Wilmington People's Press.

The present generation seem to have need of a lesson, to teach them the dangers and sufferings of a depreciated paper currency. A majority of the most active men in public life, have grown from boyhood to manhood since the resumption of specie payments, in 1816, and know nothing of the effects of the previous derangement of the currency. Some of them seem to think it would be a fine frolic to create as many new Banks as possible, without obligation to redeem their bills, and of course without restriction on their issues. Others suppose that Government bills will be an admirable substitute as currency, for the bills of the bank of the United States, which they are for battering down. Now, let all such read and ponder upon the significant historical illustrations afforded by the following anecdote, which has just caught our eye in one of our exchange papers:—

National Intelligencer.

The following bill was made out to Captain Allen McLane, (the father of the present Secretary of State for the United States,) at the time of the depreciation of Continental money:

Philadelphia, 5th January, 1781.

For William Nichols,
JONA. JONES.

They were very considerate in Charleston, Kenawha, on the occasion of the "Stars" falling." The church bell was rung to awaken the citizens and give them an opportunity of "seeing the sight." We wish the same plan had been adopted here, and so bespeak it for the next occasion.—Alex. Gaz.

Col. Crockett.—This gentleman was in Abingdon, Va., on the 18th instant, where he received considerable attention from the citizens, who found him (says the Republican) to be an intelligent, agreeable, and humorous person. A public dinner was tendered to him and accepted. We shall look for the Colonel's speech with no little anxiety, anticipating a rich treat.

Lynchburg Virginian.

[The Colonel has arrived safely at the Seat of Government, and report says that he has bespoke a double-bedded room at his boarding-house, for the accommodation of himself and Major Jack Downing, with whom the Colonel has already formed a close intimacy, and whom he is desirous to keep out of bad company.]—Nat. Int.

A letter to the Editor of the Richmond Compiler, dated Nov. 9, says:

"By two Choleras and two Fevers New Orleans has lost twelve thousand persons in one year—say one fourth of its population! Still it is gay, busy New Orleans.

"Cotton is falling to its proper value, and we look forward to an active season. The sugar crop looks well, though this is the critical period."

Spoiling the Marriage Ceremony.—The following statement is no jest, but a positive fact:—"A young man, in business in Liverpool, led his blushing bride to the altar, in the Old Church of that town; and when the question was asked, 'Wilt thou love and cherish,' &c. he answered as is customary—and added, 'When she needed, he'd bang her.' The girl immediately stopped the clergyman, and asked if it was too late to retract. On being told that it was not, she turned upon her heel, and quietly walked out of the Church, saying that 'A man who could say what he had said at such a moment, in jest, was most likely to put his threat into execution,' and bade him choose another mate.—Manchester paper.

A number of suits are about being commenced, says the Norwich Gazette, by the friends of the sufferers by the explosion of the New England, against the owners of the boat.

This is as it should be; the pockets of owners must be the safety valve for travellers.

New York American.

A Battle with the Siamese Twins.—The Athenian (Alabama, of the 30th ult. notices the arrival at Athens, of the Siamese twins, who were visited by a large number of ladies and gentleman. On the first day of the exhibition, a medical gentleman present, proposed to make an examination of the "connection" of the Twins—which was objected to by them in rather a rude and insulting manner—when some person present observed that they were "imposters," or scoundrels, upon which one of the Twins made battle; several blows were given and received and a considerable uproar ensued—finally it was quelled, and no serious injury done. The Twins were immediately arrested and carried before a Magistrate, and after an investigation of all the facts, were bound to appear at the next Circuit Court in a bond for three hundred and fifty dollars. They gave the requisite security and were discharged.

Among the New works advertised in London as ready for the press, is one entitled 'England and America; a Comparison of the Social and Political State of the two Nations,' in 2 vols. 8vo. to be published by Bentley, New Burlington street. Also, 'The Pilgrims of the Rhine;' a tale by the author of Pelham. This is to be a costly publication, illustrated with many engravings by the first artists.

Attempt to rob the Mail.—The Northern mail has just arrived, having two of the straps which confine the newspaper bags in the boot, cut, but it is believed that none of the bags are missing. As that boot contained nothing but newspapers, it would have been but a poor speculation, had it succeeded.

She possessed very many inestimable traits of character, but none shone with as much brightness as her christian graces. She bore her last illness with calm resignation, and repeatedly expressed her firm reliance on the merits of the Redeemer. Her husband and an interesting family of eleven children, are left to lament their loss.
